GEORGE BAIN TELLS HOW HE PLANNED CLAYTON DIVORCE

Bridegroom Is Indignant Because He Was Not Named as Co-Respondent, as He Says Capt. Clayton's Lawyer Promised.

"I was married yesterday to Mrs. Louise M. Clayton. Her husband's di force from her, entered into by my ar rangement with his lawyer, was granted day before vesterday. To-morrow we shall go South for three months. I wil vorce, because it has been grossly mis represented by Capt. Clayton's counsel George Bain made this statement this morning to an Evening World reporter in his insurance office at No. 45 Pine street, and he said he did it to clear his bride, who is in a state of nervous collapse over the publicity "First of all, it is not true," said Mr. Bain, "that my mother and sister objected to this match; for the simple reason that they knew nothing about it. I did not announce to either of them my intention to be married. It tentions to anybody. I have not seen my mother for six weeks, and my sister. Mrs. J. R. Mitchell of No. 739 ove street, East Orange, with whom I make my home, knows absolutely

"I met Mrs. Clayton last June at a summer resort-Lake Hopatcong-where she was the guest of relatives. That much of my sister's statement is true, though she did not get it from me Capt. Clayton and his wife had at that time been separated for several years, and he was commanding a transport between San Francisco and Los Angelos, e is now in Manila, or was on letter I have seen from him.

"In the summer I went to Charles F Hyde, No. 189 Montague street, Brooklyn, who is Capt. Clayton's lawyer, and made an arrangement with him whereby divorce proceedings between Capt. and Mrs. Clayton were to be instituted. The arrangement was perfectly definite was to be Capt. Clayton and I was to be named as co-respondent.

"Afterward, without my knowledge Mr. Hyde changed this and named no co-respondent, the divorce being applied for simply on Statutory grounds. If I mean his disbarment. had been notified of this change I would
